AN UPDATE ON COVID-19
WE NEED YOUR SUPPORT DURING THIS PANDEMIC

A global threat like COVID-19 affects more than just the infected. A pandemic like this touches every person on the planet, and it presents an opportunity to come together as a global community. At PrideRock, we've been practicing social distancing with our employees and volunteers, but while we've all been remaining sheltered in place, our animals still rely on donors like you to thrive.

We may be stuck at home, but there are many ways you can help our four-legged residents in the meantime.
On May 5, 2020, our community will come together for Giving Tuesday Now, an emergency giving day to support the nonprofits in our region. As you know, our work has been challenged by the current climate and the impact of COVID-19 on our community, region, and world.

If you can, we’re asking for your support on this emergency giving day, to help us continue our work, and providing resources for our staff and volunteers to continue forging ahead so they can care for our four-legged residents. Let’s come together to drive a spike of generosity, citizen engagement, business and philanthropy activation, and support for communities and nonprofits around the world.

Any donation you make will go toward the care of our animals.

We appreciate your support!

SHOP AND DONATE

As the whole country experiences the impact from COVID-19 and are forced to stay home, we want to remind you that when you make purchases on Amazon, you can help PrideRock! Just make sure to add us as your Amazon Smile Non-Profit.

With every purchase you make, Amazon will make a donation to PrideRock Wildlife Refuge. We can’t thank you enough!
If you’re a cat lover, you have probably seen some similarities in our videos to your own furballs at home. Strangely enough, your domestic cats actually share a lot of commonalities with some of our big cats at PrideRock – besides their size of course. We thought it would be fun to share a few ways that your house cat is actually a lot like a big cat.
